Genesis Ten

The New Conditions
... Divided Nations

Evolution: A few genes started life and new genes are “evolving” creating variation, which allows for adaptation.

Creation: Life started with a perfect “genetic set” that allows us to adapt to varying conditions. There are no new genes, only those that are mutating and deteriorating.
